The world of social media has trapped the best of us. We have discovered needs we have never had and wanted to do things we have never even imagined. Brands and organisations found a new way to reach their consumers, through influencers who already had a large number of fans.

Instagram pictures are perfectly filtered to create a different world for naïve fans. We see stylish influencers travelling to exotic locations and having the best experiences, or at least, that is what they want us to trust. While it is easy to believe the fact that these influencers live a perfect life, it is often far from the truth. Reports over the years have showed shocking facts about influencers. Some of them falsify information and promote harmful brands.

However, in recent years, people have become aware of the unethical practices of social media influencers. The authenticity they want to show is often a deception, something the users of these media have begun to realize.

Part One: Reading (15 points)

A/ Comprehension (07 pts)

Read the text carefully to do the following activities:

Think of the behaviour of the students at your school. How do students behave? Do they show respect for their teachers? Are students respectful? Violence is becoming a serious problem in schools today.

Experts believe that strict rules are the only way to curb this violence. But this is not to be the case. In previous years, whatever the school said was the law. Today, parents can come in and complain about how their child is being treated. They get their children out of all kinds of situations. These kinds of parents are lessening the security of the school. Children who do not feel there are any boundaries take disrespectful and unsafe risks.

Parents need to support the teachers and teach their children that the school rules should be followed. Teachers should not be afraid to discipline students and face consequences. Violence at school begins with how adults respond to inappropriate student behaviour.
